Product Notification – DOC # 1944562

Affected Parts: CA210-001, UR00-1031C, UR00-2047C, UR00-3062C

Dear Valued Customer,

Nordson MEDICAL has been notified by its supplier that an ingredient within the raw material for its polyurethane tubing is transitioning to animal-free, plant-derived tallow. The raw material is referred to as Pellethane 2363-80A. This is in response to global regulations moving away from animal-derived raw materials and we hope this is seen as a positive change in our progressing environment of global regulations.

In an effort to reduce impact to customers, the following details have been provided:

- No change to raw material formulation (same CAS)
- No change to raw material amount
- No change to product name
- No change to specifications
- No change to Safety Data Sheet (SDS)

If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to your account manager or email orders@nordsonmedical.com.

Thank you for your continued support!

Sincerely,
